Northern Lakes College student passes difficult provincial exam

January 27, 2009 - Northern Lakes College student, Trisha McNabb, passed the 'B' Pressure Welding Exam in December. A significant achievement considering only 1 in six who take the test receive a passing grade. The Alberta Boiler Safety Association (ABSA) invigilated the B Pressure Exam at Northern Lakes College's Welding Shop (Alberta Job Corp site in Slave Lake). Northern Lakes College will be offering a prep course and exam for 'B' Pressure Welding in February.
