

SOCIAL WORK DIPLOMA (Year 1):

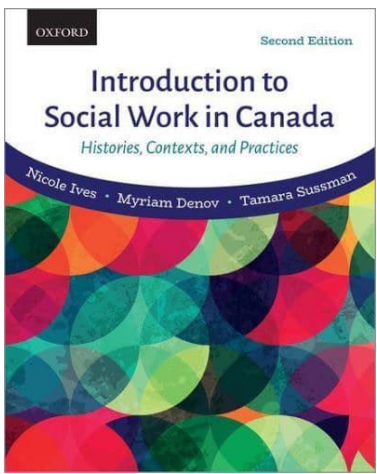

Students are required to purchase their own textbooks for the courses they are enrolled in. Below, is a list of all social work core courses for this program and corresponding textbook information for FALL 2024.

Textbooks may come in printed or e-book formats, and some may have the option to be rented at a reduced rate. The Human Services department suggests students purchase the e-book version of texts. Hardcopy versions have different shipping times and may not arrive prior to the term start, which can make it challenging to catch up in the condensed spring term. If you choose a hardcopy version, ensure that the 13-digit ISBN is correct. Common websites used to purchase textbooks include, but are not limited to: Amazon, Indigo, or directly from the publisher (recommended – see publisher info in descriptions, below). Used copies of the correct edition may also be purchased. We have included the Book Swap Guide at the end of this document.

*The cover of novels may be different between vendors.

For textbooks, please ensure you purchase the correct edition which is associated with the International Standard Book Number (ISBN) and noted in each description, below.

This guide covers the steps for students to get started in their course. Revel is an interactive learning experience that replaces your textbook and allows you to read, practice, take notes, and test yourself, all in one place.

Do not buy print textbooks, used textbooks or eTextbooks. They do not come with REVEL access. Revel access is a requirement of your SOWK 1020 course.

You will also use Revel in your SOWK 1030 course in the Winter semester. Revel purchase allows 12-month access. Therefore, you will not need to buy it again.
